A Jewish family celebrates Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year. Crack the eggs. Hear the sound? Make this braided challah round. Rosh Hashanah is coming. This sweet board book celebrates the Jewish New Year, and is the fourth in Tracy Newman's Jewish holiday series. As Kirkus said of Shabbat is Coming!, a previous book in this series, ". . . the bouncy verse and Garofoli's richly colored, slightly three-dimensional cartoons against canvas-textured backgrounds provide a compelling introduction to the weekly celebration." Today is a special day: the birthday of the world, and all God's creatures celebrate the beauty of life. As God asks each dear creature in turn whether it has been that it can be, this simple affirmation of life and goodness applauds the contribution that each and every one of the mightiest elephant to the smallest child— can make. The whimsical animals in Alison Jay's perfectly composed crackled paintings will make this a favorite book on the family shelf. Kids will learn about the Jewish fall harvest of Sukkot from building the sukkah, to the tradition of shaking the lulav and etrog. Don't know what those things are? Read the book! It's difficult for a penguin to get ready for Rosh Hashanah... Rosh Hashanah is right around the corner. And, as children will discover in this delightful tale, featuring full-colour photographs of penguins in their natural habitat, there are several important steps - beyond apples and honey - that go into preparing for a whole New Year. Explore the spiritual significance of the holiday in a fun, new way and greet the fall holiday season together, with a smile! Sammy Spider wants to taste the golden honey the Shapiros set out for a sweet New Year. Mom tells him to stick to his diet, but will curious Sammy listen? Kids and parents can learn the fun rituals of Havdalah in an easy and accessible way. Like other packages, this one began as an empty box. It was packed with great care, sealed tight, and given a personal touch. Like other packages, it left the post office with hope. But unlike most packages, before it got to its destination. Follow one package that loses its way and discover a friendship tale that proves distance can't always keep us apart. A favorite part of Rosh Hashanah is Tashlich, a joyous ceremony in which people apologize for the mistakes they made in the previous year and thus clean the slate as the new year begins. But there is one mistake on Izzy's "I'm sorry" list—he's finding especially hard to say out loud. Humor, touching moments between family and friends, and lots of information about the Jewish New Year are all combined in this lovely picture book for holiday sharing. Winner of the Sydney Taylor Gold Medal for best Jewish picture book of the year! After her brother's death from a heart defect, Izzy starts seventh grade at a new school—whose students survived a shooting four years ago—and must navigate a path of grief and healing. A kangaroo family and friends celebrate Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year in their own special way. Readers join a cute family and their dog as they light the menorah, eat latkes, unwrap gifts, sing songs, play dreidel, eat chocolate Hanukkah gelt, and march like Maccabees during the eight nights of Hanukkah in this cute 12-page board book. Includes "3D-feeling" art by Viviana Garofoli. Uncle Max is coming to celebrate Rosh Hashanah, the birthday of the world, with the people he loves. They watch the sun go down, eat their holiday meal, dip challah and apples in honey for a sweet year, and listen to the sound of the shofar. Friday's here. Jump and cheer. Shabbat is coming. A family and pet puppy eagerly prepare for Shabbat. A Rosh Hashanah story based on the first historic train ride from Jaffa to Jerusalem in 1892, shortening the journey between the two cities from 3 days to 3 hours. Engineer Ari's train is coming to Jerusalem collecting goodies along the way to celebrate the Jewish new year, and he learns an important lesson about the way. There are times in life when we are caught utterly unprepared: a death in the family, the end of a relationship, a health crisis. These are the times when the solid ground we thought we stood on disappears beneath our feet, leaving us reeling and heartbroken, as we stumble back to our faith. The Days of Awe encompass the weeks preceding Rosh Hashanah up to Yom Kippur, a period in which Jews take part in a series of rituals and prayers that reenact the journey of the soul through the world from birth to death. This is a period of contemplation and repentance, comparable to Lent and Ramadan. Yet, for Rabbi Alan Lew, the real purpose of this annual passage is for us to experience brokenness and open our heart to God. In This is Real and You Are Completely Unprepared, Lew has marked out a journey of distinct stages, one that draws on these rituals to awaken our soul and wholly transform us. Weaving together readings, Buddhist parables, Jewish fables and stories from his own life, Lew lays bare the meanings of this ancient Jewish passage. He reveals the path from terror to acceptance, confusion to clarity, doubt to belief, and from awe to awe. In the tradition of When Bad Things Happen to Good People, This Is Real And You Are Completely Unprepared enables believers of all faiths to reconnect to their faith with a passion and intimacy that will resonate throughout the year. Today the Borscht Belt is recalled through the nostalgic lens of summer swims, Saturday night dances, and stage performances. But its current state, like that of many other formerly glorious regions, is nothing like its earlier self. Forgotten about and exhausted, much of its structural environment has been left to decay. The Borscht Belt, which once featured essays by Stefan Kanfer and Jenna Weissman Joselit, presents Marisa Scheinfeld's photographs of abandoned sites where resorts, hotels, and bungalow colonies once boomed in the Catskill Mountain region of upstate New York. This book assembles images Scheinfeld has shot inside and outside locations that once buzzed with life as year-round destinations for generations of people. Some of the structures have been lying abandoned for periods ranging from four to twenty years, depending on the specific hotel or bungalow colony and the conditions under which it closed. Other sites have been demolished or repurposed, making this book an even more significant documentation of a pivotal era in American Jewish history. The Borscht Belt presents a contemporary view of more than forty hotel and bungalow sites. From vast expanses of abandoned properties to small lots containing drained swimming pools, the remains of the Borscht Belt now lie forgotten, overgrown, and vacant. In the absence of human activity, nature has reclaimed the sites, having encroached upon or completely overtaken them. Many of the interiors have been vandalized or marked by paintball players and graffiti artists. Each ruin lies radically altered by the elements and effects of time. Scheinfeld's images capture all of these developments. Touching moments between family and friends, humor, and lots of information about Jewish New Year are all combined in this lovely picture book for holiday sharing. Full color. Prepare to be shocked by the man The Wall Street Journal hailed as a "Swiftian satirist" comes the most shocking book ever written! The Report: The Big Book of Shockers, by award-winning fake journalist Andy Borowitz, contains page after page of "stories" too hot, too controversial, too -- yes, shocking -- for the mainstream press to handle. Sample the ground-breaking reporting from the news organization whose motto is "Give us thirty minutes -- we'll waste it." "Clear and lucid" from a US Poet Laureate and Pulitzer Prize winner who "journeys through the landscape of memory, consciousness, and love" (The Washington Post). Kay Ryan is acclaimed for her highly relatable, deeply insightful poems. Erratic is her first new collection since the Pulitzer Prize-winning The Best of It, and it is animated with her signature sardonic, clearheaded, lyrical style. At once witty and melancholy, playful and heartfelt, Ryan examines enormous subjects—existence, consciousness, love, loss—in compact poems that have immensely powerful resonance. Her precise and strong cadences convey both musicality and wisdom. While these pieces are composed of the same brevity that have characterized her singular voice over the course of more than twenty years, her imagination is more expansive and daring than ever. Erratic solidifies Ryan's place at the pinnacle of American poetry. "Read a poem once and you take in its crisp rhythms, subtle rhymes, and arresting images. Read it again and detect its hide-and-seek metaphorical meanings. . . . [Ryan's] quantum poems pose resonant questions of physics and metaphysics, of attentiveness and awareness on scales intimate and universal." —Booklist Readers join a cute family and their dog as they prepare for and celebrate the spring holiday of Passover, cleaning the house, making matzah ball soup, assembling the seder plate, saying the Hallel, asking Questions, and looking for the afikomen at the end of the seder. This 12-page board book features '3D-feeling' artwork by Viviana Garofoli, who illustrates all the books in this Jewish holiday series including Shabbat is Coming!, Hanukkah is Coming! and Rosh Hashanah is Coming! (available Fall 2016). Kar-Ben Read-Aloud eBooks with Audio combine professional narration and text highlighting to bring eBooks to life! Brosh can't find his blue cap, and suspects that one of his friends has taken it. When Grover returns the lost item, Brosh is glad that the High Holidays offer him a chance to say, "I'm sorry." Crack the eggs. Hear the sound? Make this braided challah round. Rosh Hashanah is coming. This is a sweet board book celebrates the Jewish New Year, and is the fourth in Tracy Newman's Jewish holiday series. As we have said of Shabbat is Coming!, a previous book in this series, ". . . the bouncy verse and Garofoli's richly colored, slightly three-dimensional cartoons against canvas-textured background provide a compelling introduction to the weekly celebration." This picture-book biography of violin virtuoso Itzhak Perlman will inspire young readers to follow the melody within themselves. A 2021 Schneider Family Book Award Young Children Honor Book. Before becoming one of the greatest violinists of all time, Itzhak Perlman was simply a boy who loved music. Raised by a poor immigrant family in a tiny Tel Aviv apartment, baby Itzhak was transformed by the sounds from his family's kitchen radio—graceful classical symphonies, lively klezmer tunes, and soulful cantorial chants. The rich melodies and vibrant rhythms spoke to his imagination, filling his mind with vivid rainbows of color. After begging his parents for an instrument, Itzhak threw his heart and soul into playing the violin. Despite enormous obstacles—including a near-fatal bout of polio that left him crippled for life—Itzhak persevered, honing his extraordinary gift. When he performed on the Ed Sullivan Show at only 13, audiences around the world were mesmerized by the warmth, joy, and passion in every note. Gorgeously illustrated with ex-

back matter, this picture-book biography recounts Itzhak's childhood journey—from a boy with a dream to an internationally acclaimed violin virtuoso. Four friends gather with others on Rosh Hashanah for tashlich, when they apologize for mistakes they have made then toss breadcrumbs on the water to represent the mistakes floating away. As his sins threaten the lives of his beloved twin children, a Jewish man finally repents of his wicked ways. Annie is about the Tashlich ceremony on the afternoon of Rosh Hashanah, when her family will walk to Turtle Rock Creek and throw crumbs into the water, as symbols of mistakes made the past year. As Annie leads her family through the ritual, stopping at favorite rocks, bridges, and waterfalls in her family's own Tashlich ritual, they think about the good things that happened during the past year, and make plans for a sweeter new year. This story focuses on ecological connections to the Tashlich ceremony and encourages families to customize the ritual and commune with nature for the New Year. A sweet board book in which a little boy celebrates Shabbat by going for a walk, appreciating the blessings of those he meets on the way -- family, friends and animals. Lila wants to help her family get ready for Shabbat dinner. Her plan is to bake her own challah but each time she tries, the challah comes out wrong.
