Messages from the Masters Apr 25 2023 A leader in the New Age movement, Dr. Brian Weiss is famous for his work on past life regression. Now, after two decades of studying reincarnation, Weiss has discovered the ultimate healing energy -- love. Not love in a romantic sense, but love as the life force, an actual, physical energy that can be measured. In this important work, Weiss addresses such topics as what happens after we die, strategies for healing relationships, means of combating anxiety, and the role of God and self-determination. Drawing on the wisdom of the spirit guides known as the Masters introduced in Many Lives, Many Masters, Weiss presents exercises and meditations that demonstrate how the power of love can utterly transform lives. Both inspirational and practical, "Messages From The Masters" presents a vision of hope and healing that will drastically change the way readers think about themselves and the world.

The Shrine of Jeffrey Dahmer Jan 23 2023 When he was arrested in July 1991, Jeffrey Dahmer had a severed head in the refrigerator, two more in the freezer, two skulls and a skeleton in a filing cabinet. But if anything could be more disturbing than the brute horror of this scene, it was the evidence that Dahmer had been using these human remains not only for sexual gratification, but as part of a dark ritual of his own devising -- to furnish a shrine to himself. The Shrine of Jeffrey Dahmer offers a chilling insight into the mind of a serial killer and reveals the horrors within. Perfect for fans of Making a Murderer, Mindhunter and The Ted Bundy Tapes, this is a gripping and gruesome read that delves into the mind of a murderer and what possesses someone to kill.

The Evil That Men Do Aug 06 2021 Born of a preoccupation with saints and sinners, The Evil That Men Do is Brian Masters' investigation into the nature of good and evil, and the different ways in which they can be manifested. It examines the fundamental questions of why we are as we are: why we are good, why we care for one another, why we can be altruistic and kind as well as selfish and cruel. According to science, we are prisoners of our genetic inheritance. Are our impulses therefore to some extent inescapable, compelling us to behave in a certain manner, irrespective of the guidelines imposed by instinct or civilization? Or can we determine our individual patterns of behaviour? Do we really have a choice? Using a diverse multitude of examples, from St. Francis of Assisi, Audrey Hepburn, Bruce Chatwin and Bob Geldof to the Marquis de Sade, Adolf Hitler and Peter Sutcliffe, from the Spanish Inquisition to Nazi Germany to the Vietnam War, Brian Masters examines this age-old yet intensely contemporary subject. At a time when civilization seems on the verge of meltdown, he has produced an incisive, thoughtful and provocative meditation on a fundamental human question.

Getting Personal Feb 21 2023 'The art of the biographer is to probe beyond the façade which the subject has skilfully presented, to himself, as well as to others, over a lifetime, in order to discover the whole person behind the image,' writes Brian Masters at the start of his memoir. Having written a dozen books on subjects as varied as Molière, Marie Corelli, the mistresses of Charles II, Rabelais, Camus, E. F. Benson and Georgiana, Duchess of Devonshire, in middle age Masters turned to true crime, writing rigorous and intelligent books about two serial killers, Dennis Nilsen and Jeffrey Dahmer, and one about the wife of another, Rosemary West. Brian Masters portrays his own life with the honesty of an experienced biographer, unflinchingly describing his childhood in the bombed out streets of south London; the years as a protégé of one of the first radio stars, Gilbert Harding; hitchhiking across America dressed in a suit and bowler hat; discovering his sexuality - all the while trying to work out his gravitation towards disastrous relationships and his desire to understand the motivations and impulses of the people he has written about. The book is both an inquiry into the events and forces that formed him and an entertaining portrait of many friends and acquaintances, an eclectic list that includes his 'adopted' son Gary, John Ogdon, the pianist, Natalie Makarova, the ballerina, and the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire.

Brian W. Aldiss Dec 30 2020 Brian W. Aldiss wrote classic science fiction novels like Report on Probability A and Hothouse. Billion Year Spree, his groundbreaking study of the field, defined the very meaning of SF and delineated its history. Yet Aldiss's discomfort with being a guiding spirit of the British New Wave and his pursuit of mainstream success characterized a lifelong ambivalence toward the genre. Paul Kincaid explores the many contradictions that underlay the distinctive qualities of Aldiss's writing. Wartime experiences in Asia and the alienation that arose upon his return to the cold austerity of postwar Britain inspired themes and imagery that Aldiss drew upon throughout his career. He wrote of prolific nature overwhelming humanity, believed war was madness even though it provided him with the happiest period of his life, and found parallels in the static lives of Indian peasants and hidebound English society. As Kincaid shows, contradictions created tensions that fueled the metaphorical underpinnings of Aldiss's work and shaped not only his long career but the evolution of postwar British science fiction.

Killing For Company Aug 30 2023 The definitive story of the Dennis Nilsen case featured in Netflix's Memories of a Murder: The Nilsen Tapes, and the book behind ITV's Des, starring David Tennant WINNER OF THE GOLD DAGGER AWARD FOR CRIME NON-FICTION and THE NUMBER ONE SUNDAY TIMES BESTSELLER _____ Dennis Nilsen, who died in May 2018, admitted to killing at least 15 people before his arrest in 1983. This ground-breaking criminal study of his killings was written with Nilsen's full cooperation, resulting in a fascinating - and horrifying - portrait of the man who worshipped death. In February 1983, residents of Muswell Hill had been plagued by blocked drains. When a plumber was called to investigate, he discovered a large blockage of biological material. To his horror, it appeared to be formed of human flesh and bones. The next day, local resident Dennis Nilsen was arrested. 'Are we talking about one body or two?' a detective asked. Nilsen replied 'Fifteen or sixteen, since 1978. I'll tell you everything.' Within days he had confessed to fifteen gruesome murders over a period of four years. His victims, mostly young gay men at a time when society cared little for them, had been overlooked. Killing for Company is a unique study of a murderer's mind, essential reading for true crime aficionados.
